

SOAPSMITH

Made for the real world

Seifenmith places fragrance at the heart of everything. Founded in London, the brand draws inspiration from people, places, and moments in time, crafting handmade soaps and bath and body care products that engage the senses and use natural ingredients to care for and nourish the skin. Each signature scent is inspired by the real world and made for true character.

SOAPSMITH

The woody, herbaceous fragrance Hackney is inspired by the London district where Seifenmith founder Sam Jameson was born. Notes of bergamot, rosemary, and geranium recall the grassy marshlands of Hackney.
